Queen's Ball

Dance Boasts New Feature

Unusual plans keynote the traditional Queen's Ball which the Junior Sodality of Our Lady will hold in the Evergreen Gym on next Friday, May 6. Two orchestras are being engaged for the dance so that there will be no need for any prolonged intermission, and special favors will be distributed by the Maids of Honor.

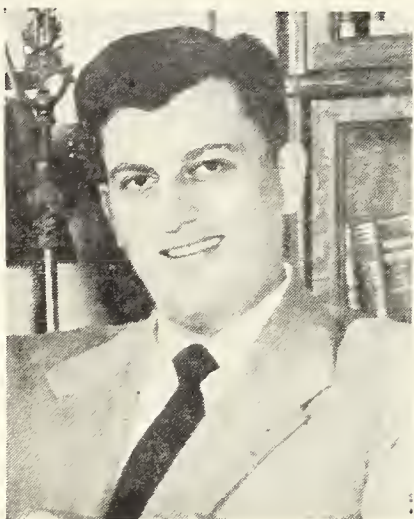

Ferdinand Leimkuhler, General Chairman of the dance, has announced that today is the deadline for entries in the competition which will determine the Maids of Honor. Any student who is a patron for the dance program may submit a picture of his partner in the contest, which will be judged by members of the Georgetown Sodality. Mr. John J. Burns, S. J., Moderator of the Sodality, pointed out that only one girl would be chosen to represent each of the four courses at Loyola.

The committee also promised that Francis of the Belvedere would be on hand to prepare a special punch for the occasion. The Dec-

Bianco Edges McNeal By Thirty Votes; Meagher Romps To Easy A. A. Victory

• Student Council President

Emidio A. Bianco

"My sincerest gratitude to the Student Body for the honor of being their President. I appeal to every student for his cooperation, suggestions, or criticisms, in order that the Student Council will not benefit only a few, but all."

Emidio A. Bianco and Francis J. Meagher were the victorious candidates in this year's elections for President of the Student Council and President of the Athletic Association. A committee of eight Student Council members conducted the balloting last Monday, April 25, from 12:00 noon to 12:30 p.m.

Bianco garnered 320 of the 717 votes cast for Student Council President, thereby edging out by a thirty vote margin Edward J. McNeal who had a 290 vote total.

Smyth Third

J. Walter Smyth ran third in the race for President of the Student Council by virtue of his 107 vote total.

In winning the office of President of the Athletic Association, Meagher had the easiest time of any of the five men seeking that office. He rolled up more votes than his four opponents combined. Of the 719 votes cast, Meagher had 362.

John R. Mohler was Meagher's closest competitor with a total vote of 108.

Maskell Third

Thomas K. Maskell was third with 101 votes; and James J. Connolly had a total vote of 78. William E. Klarner gathered 70 votes.

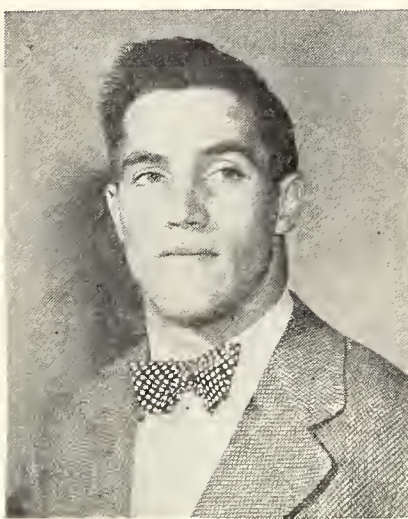

Final tabulations were not completed until Tuesday morning because the thirty-one votes of the Seniors on retreat at Manresa were not available until late Monday evening when E. Clinton Bamberger, retiring Council President, phoned the results to the committee head, James E. Bowen.

Count Split

The counting of the votes was split so that the results would remain known only to THE GREYHOUND editor until today's publication.

For a time, it appeared that the Manresa count would determine the final results. However, a final count showed that McNeal would not have been able to overtake Bianco even if he had won all the votes from the Manresa balloting.

• A. A. President

Francis J. Meagher

"Thanks for your confidence. I will try hard to give each Loyola man the best fruits of a stronger and more active Athletic Association."

June Graduation

Approximately 150 students will be graduated on June 5 on the Evergreen campus. If weather permits, the exercises will be held on the campus instead of in the Gym. Both the June and January classes will take part in the ceremonies.

Glee Club Plans Concert In May

An award of five dollars will be given the student who sells the most tickets to the concert. A minimum of ten dollars worth of tickets must be sold.

The Loyola College Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Felice S. Iula, will present its annual Spring Concert at the Alcazar on May 13, at 8:30 p.m.

The program will include such numbers as The Battle Hymn of the Republic, I Got Shoes, Lift Up Thine Eyes, and A College Medley, which comprises the songs of Fordham, Notre Dame University and Loyola, as well as The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

Featured will be solos by Albert G. Fitzgerald and John J. McWilliams. Also highlighting the program will be several selections by the newly formed Loyola College Barbershop Quartet—George M. Bauernschub, first tenor; Charles D. Davis, second tenor; Bertram H. Morales, first bass; and Jean J. Gunning, second bass.

Following the concert, there will be a dance, with Bob Iula's orchestra supplying the music.

The next morning, the entire Glee Club will leave for White Plains, New York, to participate in a mass concert sponsored by the Eastern Division of the Associated Male Choruses of America.

Dean Announces New Plan Will Begin At Once

A Placement and Vocational Guidance Service for both students and alumni of Loyola College was announced this week by the Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S. J., Dean. The alumni were notified of this innovation at the annual banquet on April 21 by the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola College.

Father Sullivan released complete plans for the much-needed service to THE GREYHOUND for exclusive publication.

In Science Building

Offices of the Placement and Vocational Service will occupy those formerly used by the Veterans' Administration which has been closed. Mr. Patrick Coughlin and Mr. Henry Zerhusen have been designated to supervise the administration of the service.

A twofold method will be employed. The first objective of the service will be to disseminate occupational information to the students. In line with this, personnel managers will interview students, and members of the various professions and industries will address interested students concerning the requirements and the nature of the work connected with their positions.

Placement Included

In addition to this guidance, placement in full time and part time work is included in the duties of the proposed service. National vocational tests to determine abilities will be given all students under the supervision of the college. It is expected that this will aid the student in determining what studies he should pursue.

Alumni will also be given the benefit of the placement services as well as the guidance program whenever it is desired.

ACP Gives Paper Top Award

The Rev. John J. Scanlan, S. J., Moderator of THE GREYHOUND, recently announced that the College newspaper has received notice of its third consecutive All-American Award. The award was made by the Associated Collegiate Press for the issues published during the first semester of the current school year.

THE GREYHOUND received a total of 945 points out of a possible 1065. Ten other bi-weekly publications were awarded this honor with THE GREYHOUND.

May Devotions

Daily May Devotions in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary will be held daily next month at 12:20 before Our Lady's statue on the lawn.

Members of the Senior Sodality will deliver talks daily at the devotions, choosing as their themes the Litany salutations in honor of Mary.

Atlantic Pact Discussion Will Highlight Annual Parents' Day

A re-inauguration of the annual Parents' Day celebration will take place at Evergreen on Sunday afternoon, May 8. The program will begin at 2:30 p.m. with an inspection of the Evergreen campus and buildings. At 3:00 p.m. an informal reception will be held in the Faculty Residence.

The afternoon will be highlighted by a student forum on "The North Atlantic Pact". The forum will be conducted as a United Nations Assembly insofar as the students will present the views of the principal nations which are actively interested in the recent alliance. The Official installation of the newly elected college officers, the President of the Student Council and the President of the Athletic Association, will be made at the Parents' Day meeting on May 8, it was announced on Monday.

Faculty and Student Council Meet To Discuss Problems

The Faculty and Student Council of Loyola College held their initial joint meeting in room 101 yesterday, April 28. Among the topics discussed was the issuance of questionnaires to both incoming freshmen and graduating seniors.

These questionnaires would seek to determine what the student expected of college and upon his leaving, what he had gained from his college courses. The inquiries would also include questions concerning athletic facilities.

The purpose of the meeting was to provide an opportunity for representatives of the Faculty and student body to meet so that the two groups might discuss subjects which were of concern to both.

Five Students Vie In Oratory

Five students will represent Loyola in the annual Hearst Oratorical Contest. These men, who were chosen in College eliminations on Friday, April 22, are as follows: John C. Evelius, Donald E. Fay, Francis X. Gallagher, Lawrence R. Mooney and Irvin E. Hammond.

Alexander Hamilton has been chosen as the subject for this year's contest.

The winner of the state-wide college finals will receive a $500 Savings Bond and a trip to the Eastern Zone Finals in New York City. Second place will carry with it a $100 bond. The third place winner will be awarded a $50 bond. The remaining contestants in the state finals will each receive a $25 bond.

different stands of the nations concerned will be upheld by students representing those nations. The project is being directed by Dr. Harry S. Kirwin, Associate Professor of History at Loyola College.

The program will close with solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the Gym.

As in the past Parents' Day is being held on Mothers' Day. All parents of Loyola students recently received invitations to the affair.

Impromptu entertainment was supplied by members of the club lead by George Herman at the piano and William Volenick with his accordion. Members of the cast, including Herman, Clarke, Custer and David Maguire recited while Robert DeLisle and several of the girls sang and danced. A general sing-song followed.

Louis F. Budenz, former editor of the Daily Worker, told over three hundred members of the Loyola College Alumni Association that forced labor in Russia runs into the millions and that the Marxist dream for an earthly paradise in Russia has developed into an "earthly hell."

Speaking at the annual Alumni Association Banquet at the Lord Baltimore Hotel on Thursday, April 21, Budenz delivered an eloquent address interjected with many of his personal experiences while within the Communist camp.

Tells Of Conversion

The reformed Red editor told of his meeting with Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen in 1936 at which time the churchman interrupted the conversation by saying, "Now, let us talk of the Blessed Virgin Mary." For nine years, Budenz said he could not shake that conversation from his mind.

Finally in 1945, he threw aside his materialistic ideals and rejoined the Catholic faith in company with his wife and children who became converts.

Stresses Labor Camps

Budenz recommended that the knowledge of the forced labor camps in Russia be circulated widely throughout the country so that the grand ideas of the perfect Soviet state would be shattered. The realization that Communism is not reaching its dream state is a valuable antidote to its poisonous doctrines, Budenz stated.

The concentration of communists in New York and Hollywood was discussed along with the legal complications involved in libel suits for accusing anyone of being a Communist.

Mr. Lischka's Flowers Beautify Statue

Students of the College were surprised and happy last week when they saw that the statue of the Blessed Mother which stands in the center of the campus, was so beautifully decorated by flowers purchased by Mr. Charles N. Lischka, Instructor of English at Loyola.

The flowers, which include roses, pansies and azaleas, numbered thirty-five in all. They were planted by the gardeuer under supervision of the Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S. J., and Mr. Lischka.

The Critilog

by George Herman

The New York Critics' Circle reversed the field in their choice for the year's best musical when they selected "South Pacific" and snubbed the previously-favored "Kiss Me Kate". Actually these two shows represent the two different types of musicals now on Broadway, and the critics ran true to form.

"Kiss Me Kate" is a product of that school of stage musicals which relies on the music of an established composer rather than on the story. The music is expected to set up the theme and the allure of the show, and the story is a necessary evil, tolerated but not enjoyed.

"South Pacific" on the other hand is of that school of musicals which requires the music and the lyrics to rise from the story and carry action forward as a helpmate. Hammerstein is a master in this rare and difficult form of lyricizing.

There is a third type of musical—the revue. This is a thin plot with accompanying blackouts and skits and based on the music and lyrics and the talents of the individuals in the production. Such is the Mask and Rapier Society's newest production "Shubert Alley," which goes into rehearsal today.

There are twenty-two songs in "Shubert Alley" and four blackouts. The show concerns the new stars who live and hope in the shadows of Broadway—along the casting places and the agencies known as "Shubert Alley".

Reminiscent of "Marelyn" in format, "Shubert Alley" will air such new songs as "Leda", "Grey, Grey Day", and "Our Melody".

What-Money Again?

Whenever an appeal is made for money, there arise from the mob certain righteous men and women who designate themselves spokesmen of humanity and loudly proclaim that this everlasting plague for money must be ended before mankind becomes bankrupt. Usually, those who are most vehement in their denunciations are those who donate little of what they can well afford to give.

However, there are some who realize that certain causes must be supported by contributions because of the grave moral deprivations a lack of finances can bring about. One of those causes is that of the Catholic Charities.

Consider for a moment the lifelong influence of a Catholic rearing on those who have been orphaned and placed in the care of a Catholic orphanage or a Catholic home. Consider these same children now in the care of the Catholic Charities if such care were denied them because of a lack of money. Think of them as vagrants, criminals-in-the-making, and human beings to whom life means nothing more than misery, poverty and frustration.

Catholic education, the needs of the poor and those of the helpless aged must be provided for by the Catholic Charities. We must have more Catholic education to combat the spread of religious indifference by our godless public school system.

All these are more than worthy causes; they carry with them a moral obligation to aid. A refusal to aid the Catholic Charities is tantamount to saying that you do not care to what depths of spiritual and moral ruin men are driven because of a lack of a few hours of work or a few dollars of aid which you could have very easily afforded to give.

We Congratulate Us

Perhaps it is considered a bit unorthodox for a newspaper to tell its readers that it feels it has reason to be proud. However, with the indulgence of those few who bother to read editorials, we would like to make it known that recent commendations from the Associated Collegiate Press do cause us to pop a few buttons off our editorial vest.

For the third consecutive time, All-American honors have been awarded THE GREYHOUND. Only ten other bi-weekly college and university papers in the nation shared this honor. We are not so much concerned with the honor itself as we are with the reasons why we have won them.

We are fortunate to have on the staff of this paper a group of gifted men who employ their talents. They are not temperamental artists. However, they are artists. Their Sundays, their free periods, their holidays and their evenings are devoted to making THE GREYHOUND a readable student newspaper.

Perhaps, they do get a little glory. But it's not all spotlights and fanfare. Behind every issue of THE GREYHOUND, there are hundreds of hours of work by our advertising, business and circulation departments, composed of men who seldom get the glory.

They share in this honor as does our Moderator, Father Scanlan, who helps make THE GREYHOUND a genuine student newspaper.

If you'll excuse us, we congratulate the Staff of THE GREYHOUND.

Letter To The Editor

My dear Mr. Gallagher:

It seems to me that collegiate debating not only here at Loyola but all over the country has run into a rut, due especially to this National Intercollegiate Debate Question. Granting the obvious merits of this system, I think the demerits far outweigh the advantages. Certainly the debaters I have heard are more eloquent in their complaints about the system than they are in their debates on the question.

After a few debates, monotony understandably sets in, and although more debates can be scheduled by reason of this system, it certainly seems questionable to me what value there is in standing up in an empty hall or classroom and talking before Mr. Chairman, Honorable Judge and my two worthy opponents. Even the rebuttals which are normally extempore become standardized.

My suggestion is this: why not have at Loyola College a Speakers Guild. This Guild would each year select a few topics of timely importance, for instance: The Morality of Atomic Warfare; Communism: the Evil and the Cure; Socialized Medicine; The Threat of Socialism in the U.S.—just to mention a few offhand. Subjects specifically Catholic too could be chosen.

Teams of two or three or even more would then concentrate their study on one of these questions, present their views before a "heckling audience," and then be sent out to speak before groups in and around Baltimore. They could present their point of view, and offer to defend it before all comers in a question period. In this way the student would be learning to speak, he would be putting his knowledge of philosophy and theology and other subjects to work, he would be inspired to further study on a subject in which he and other men were vitally interested. He would also refute the charge that the modern American collegian is "inarticulate" and "escapist." In this way the aims of the Debating Society would be more than amply attained.

A Faculty Member.

Public Doesn't Know Meaning of Real Bop

by Larry Davis

What has been the influence of bop on the average music listener? What is his understanding of bop? Lee Castle, former Shaw, Goodman, and T. Dorsey trumpeter, has found that the listener considers it just another name for fast music and includes it in his "hep" vocabulary along with "jazz", "ragtime", "dixieland", and "swing" with no thought of differentiation. On a recent dance date in Pennsylvania, Castle and his small crew were asked to play some bop. Now, Castle admits that neither he nor his men can play bop, but, with tongue-in-cheek, he proceeded to play a two-beat dixieland version of "South Rampart Street Parade". Much to his surprise, his "hep" audience applauded and asked for more bop. Of course there were there those who preferred sweet music who didn't like his "bop".

Another group is the "one-step behind" group. This group knows the difference but is just beginning to appreciate dixieland. When jazz moves into its next stage, this group will appreciate bop. Just why these people oppose the radical changes of bop is the same reason Verdi met opposition when he introduced the seventh chord in symphony. The new sounds and the off-beat rhythms of bop often sound cacophonous to a new listener. As in the past, it will take time and repetition to educate the ears of the listener so that the sounds will not seem unusual.

Nat "King" Cole is going to try to subtly include bop into new quartet arrangements so that the listener won't be too aware of its presence. Realizing that his smoothly styled ballads have been his strongest selling point, he means to continue singing, but bop will dominate his musical expression. Charlie Ventura, tenor saxist, has prepared explanatory records on bop. Efforts by such well known musicians to explain and popularize bop should do much to alleviate the confusion.

Pacing The Pack

Loyola Teams Producing Bountiful Victory Array

by Mickey Parr, Sports Editor

Perhaps you will leap with joy, or you may feel a bit sorry (golly, that would be nice) when you read that this is your current editor's final edition of Pacing The Pack. Yes, it's true, so if you don't mind, a little reminiscing is the order of the day.

During my three years at Evergreen, the Greyhound sports program has risen from the dregs of wartime battering to what is possibly the most glorious three-year stretch in Loyola athletic history. And that isn't just idle talk!

Not only does the agenda cover ten different sports, which should compare favorably with the lineup of just about any small college, but each one of those sports has concretely contributed toward keeping the Green and Grey on friendly terms with the authorities who award championship trophies.

The soccer team won the '48 Mason-Dixon Conference bunting, and though the cross-country squad hasn't hit the top, it has contributed the individual M-D champion for two successive years, George Brown in '47 and George Rodney in '48.

In like manner, the wrestling team has produced M-D mat kings Steve Krizan, Carter Beese and Jeep Mueller in '48, and Franny Meagher in '49. Getting back to team awards, the conference swimming trophy has found a resting place among Loyola's spoils of athletic warfare for the past two seasons.

Win Six Trophies

Then, of course, there's the king of Greyhound sports, basketball. The cagers have contributed to the display coffer no less than six times in three campaigns. During '46-47 and '47-48 they annexed the M-D regular season and tournament honors, and this year they earned the tournament championship, and third-place laurels in the National Catholic Invitation hardwood scramble.

By the way, don't forget a fellow named Jim Lacy, who recently closed his Greyhound court career with the highest scoring total in collegiate history.

Loyola's spring athletes went wild in '47, bagging the game warden's limit with the M-D bunting in baseball, tennis, and golf. The divot-diggers not only made an encore in '48, but also added the Maryland Intercollegiate title.

The Green and Grey lacrosse forces landed Ray Wittelsberger on the All-South squad in '47, with Johnny Mohler and Ed Hughes following Ray's trail in '48. And in track, Walt Smyth was good enough to nail down the M-D high-hurdles championship last May.

You know, it takes quite a variety of attributes to mold a good athlete, virtues such as courage, loyalty to training, natural ability, aggressiveness, etc. Running the risk of criticism, I would like to single out a few Greyhound performers who have exemplified these points.

Boast Excellent Traits

For courage, there's Ray Bevans. Despite an amputated right arm, Ray hurdled more-than-ordinary obstacles to become a fine soccer player and a steady outfielder in baseball. For loyalty to training, there's George Brown. It's not easy to take distance running laurels with short legs. For natural ability, Jim Lacy rates high. For aggressiveness, is there any peer to Mike Zedalis?

Then, there's the all-important backing of the fans. If you really want to find out how faithful a rooter can be, follow the pattern of Gus Gilbert.

If I could master the trick of pulling desired articles out of a tophat, my parting gifts to the athletic department would be: a suitable, adjacent cross-country course, full-time coaching services and better facilities for the wrestlers, and a huge slice of the Garrett estate for the lacrosse and track teams.

That seems to be all that there's space for, so let's call this rampage to a halt. Seriously, I would like to express deep appreciation and sincere thanks for the interest that has been shown and the gratifying comments that have been made concerning Pacing The Pack. Thanks a million!

Eagles Annex 3 to 1 Diamond Victory

The Loyola baseball team visited American U. on April 21, and met with its first Mason-Dixon Conference defeat in two outings. The Eagles garnered three runs off Charley Sybert in the first inning, but were held scoreless after that.

Jack Whalen's single drove in Mel Wright in the third stanza, for the Greyhounds' lone tally.

John McLachlan was the winning pitcher, although he was relieved by Dick Taylor in the ninth.

Baseball Action On Evergreen Diamond

Catcher George Franz displays a good example of a hook slide, as he scores for Loyola during the Greyhounds' fifth-inning uprising against Second Army, when seven runs crossed the plate. The game, played at Evergreen on April 20, went to the soldiers by the wild score of 15 to 7. Franz had walked, and later tallied on an error by the second baseman. The catcher groping in the dust is Burt Allison. Story on page 6.

Maryland Takes 9 to 7 Contest

In one of the big surprises of the current lacrosse season, Loyola's stick team held the University of Maryland to a two-point advantage as the Terps took a 9 to 7 decision on April 16 at Evergreen.

The Greyhounds played inspired, heads-up ball, to match their opponents' scoring thrusts through three periods, only to have the College Parkers surge ahead in the final stanza.

After Frank Kimmel had knotted the count at 7-all, in the fourth period, Bob Herbert and Buzz Hall retaliated for the visitors to sew up the contest.

Jim Whelan paced the Loyola attack with three goals. Bob Delisle scored twice, and Ed Hughes and Frank Kimmel tallied once each for the Green and Grey.

Hall's trio of scoring shots led the visiting ten in that department. He registered in the first, second and fourth period.

Stickmen Win At Penn State

by Bob Bourbon

Loyola College's unpredictable lacrosse Greyhounds came through with their second straight sterling performance, last Saturday at State College, Pa., upsetting Penn State, 6 to 4.

Coach Bish Baker's squad had to sweep back from a seemingly insurmountable second-half 4 to 0 disadvantage, in moving to its third win of the current stick campaign.

First Half Action Slow

The Green and Grey collected almost a dozen penalties during a slow-moving first half, many of them of rather dubious merit. The Lions countered initially on a low shot into the webbing, and by the half-time intermission they had added another, to raise the count to 2 to 0.

After the rest period, Coach Nick Thiel's charges came back and added two more quick counters. By then things looked pretty hopeless for the visitors' cause.

Disputed First Goal

Loyola's first goal was made by Eddie Miller, on a disputed play, late in the third quarter. Seconds later, Ed Hughes raced half the length of the field with a faceoff and fired the sphere past the Staters' goalie. A screen shot by Henry Walker and a flip by Frank Kimmel evened the score just before the start of the fourth session.

Then, Doc Carroza tallied on a pass from behind the goal to put the Greyhounds ahead, 5 to 4. A goal by Bob Miller, on an assist from Walker, then iced the cake.

April Schedules Keep Sports At Rapid Pace

Netmen Vanquish U. of B.

Taking its fourth Mason-Dixon Conference victory, against one loss, Loyola's tennis team triumphed over the U. of Baltimore, 9-0, on the Bees' home courts on April 20.

The Greyhound netmen have lost only to Catholic U., 5-4, in conference matches thus far. However, Coach Vince Colimore's men have a chance to gain revenge on the Cardinals on May 17.

Sho'men Blanked In Tennis

Washington College's tennis team came to Evergreen on April 23, only to absorb a 9-0 pasting from Loyola's strong squad.

The Greyhound players swept all of their matches, but one, in straight sets. Jerry Laroque produced the cleanest victory of the day by toppling Washington's Berzie Wyckoff, 6-0, 6-1. Johnny Darrell was extended to three sets, but came through with a 6-1, 4-6, 6-1 win over Bill Brandt.

St. Joseph's Wins In Track

St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia stormed to a 99-27 track triumph over Loyola at the Quaker City on April 12.

The Green and Grey thinclads managed to take only three first places out of 14 events. Jack Brunk gained winner's laurels in the 220-yard dash in 23.4 seconds. George Rodney paced the milers, completing the circuit in 4:34.4. Jeep Mueller outdistanced the discus field with a heave of 103' 6".

Catholic U. Takes Own Meet

Four teams participated in the annual Catholic U. Invitation track meet on April 23, and the host Car-

Golfers Whip La Salle, 7-2

Playing over the rain-swept Whitemarsh Country Club in Philadelphia, Loyola's golf team swamped La Salle, 7-2, on April 22.

It was the fourth victory in six starts for the Schlossmen, and adverse weather conditions are becoming second nature to the divot-diggers. The players toured the course in a driving rainstorm, and a cold, westerly wind played havoc with more than one drive.

Loyola's Jack Cronin ran into the former Philadelphia caddie champion, Jim Finnegan, and dropped a close match. The two halved the first seventeen holes, and then in the dusky mist of the late evening Finnegan dropped a long putt to win the match on the eighteenth green, 1-up. This was the lone La Salle victory and Finnegan's 77 was low for the afternoon.

This was the second visit to Philadelphia for Loyola, and enabled the Greyhounds to atone for a previous licking by St. Joseph's College.

Jack Simanski and John Bailey continued their winning ways, and Mel Beeler, Jim Pelisek, and Bill Cronin chipped in with decisive wins to assure a Loyola triumph. Summaries:

Jim Finnegan, La Salle, defeated Jack Cronin, Loyola, 1 up.
Jack Simanski, Loyola, defeated Frank Gannon, La Salle, 4 and 3. Best ball, La Salle, 1 up.
John Bailey, Loyola, defeated Charles Donohoe, La Salle, 1 up.
Mel Beeler, Loyola, defeated Tom Donohoe, La Salle, 2 and 1. Best ball, Loyola, 1 up.
James Pelisek, Loyola, defeated Bill Groetsch, La Salle, 6 and 5.
Bill Cronin, Loyola, defeated John Moore, La Salle, 2 and 1. Best ball, Loyola, 5 and 4.

dinals overwhelmed their opponents by compiling a 94½ point total.

Loyola placed second with 35 points, and was followed by American U. and Gallaudet. Walt Smyth scored a double triumph for the Green and Grey by snatching both the low and high-hurdle events. His time of 15.8 seconds was only two-tenths of a second off the record in the latter race.

Swatters Beat Hopkins

While Danny Donohue held the opposition batters in check on five hits and two walks, Loyola's swatters had little trouble finding the path to home plate and toppled Johns Hopkins, 8 to 2, on April 26 at Homewood.

Lefty Bob Doyle toed the rubber for the Blue Jays, but hit the hard luck trail as the Greyhounds piled up an early 7 to 0 lead, scoring three times in the first inning and four times in the fourth. Both pitchers went all the way for their respective teams.

Donohue struck out six of the Homewood batsmen. Dolye whiffed two and walked eight of the Loyola bingers.

The host team tallied twice in their half of the fourth stanza, but the visitors added another of their own in the eighth.

Mike Zedalis was the only Loyolan to safely knick Doyle more than once, getting two singles in five official times at bat. Doyle gave up six hits, all of them singles.

John Weiner lambasted a pair of doubles in three trips to the plate for Hopkins, while Tommy Gaudreau, former Greyhound player, weighed in with a brace of singles.

The Lineup

Bob Miller's Steadiness Seen As Team Asset

by Gerry McCormick

As you watch the Greyhound lacrosse team in action, some players seem to stand out more than others. But Bob Miller is not one of these.

Take special notice of Bob during any game and you'll soon see why he is so valuable to the team.

Many times in the course of a game there are wild melees when wood resounds, bodies clash and the ball bobbles around loosely.

Always On The Spot

Suddenly, in the middle of the pack a Greyhound scoops up the ball and flips it downfield to a waiting teammate. Invariably, the eyes of the spectators follow the ball to the new action down the field.

But suppose we turn back to see who it was who picked up that loose ball. Surprisingly often, that man will be Bob Miller.

Skillful Passer

Bob's forte is his stick-handling, and during the course of the game he uses this skill very effectively in his smooth passing and dodging. His passes play a key role in most of the team's offensive plays.

Bob's value to the team is well realized by the rest of the players on the squad, and his popularity with his mates was evidenced recently when he was elected team captain for the season. This well deserved honor came as a climax to his three years of lacrosse at Loyola.

Greyhound Stickmen Swamp VMI

Virginia Military Institute's lacrosse team visited Evergreen on Saturday, April 9, and fell prey to lacrosse Coach Bish Baker's marauding Greyhounds, by a score of 21 to 1. It was the highest score run up by a Loyola stick squad in the last four years, and from the very outset of the game it had the appearance of a one-sided affair.

Eleven men figured in the scoring rout, with Frank Kimmel's four markers the top individual effort. Bob Delisle and Bob Miller, with 3, were next in line, while Tom Oaster, Jim Whelan, and Doc Corrozza each chipped in with a pair of tallies.

St. Joseph's Wins Here

Winning 13 to 7, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia handed Loyola's baseball nine its fourth defeat of the season at Evergreen on April 19.

Unable to gain control from the start, Loyola's Bill Carroll was relieved by Danny Donohue in the first inning, after giving up five walks and two singles, good for five runs.

Cogan Wallops Homer

St. Joe accounted for another run in the third and two in the sixth as Bob Cogan walloped a 315-foot homer with a man on board. Donohue ran into trouble in the seventh and was relieved by Carl Eckels. The scoreboard read 12 to 2 when the final out was registered.

Coming to life in their half of the seventh, the Greyhounds scored four runs off the offerings of visiting pitcher Henry Dudek.

Rally Begun

Reds Schneider and Mel Wright started the rally by walking. Jack Whalen singled, scoring Schneider, and sending Wright to third.

Tommy Lind then drove in Wright with a lusty double. George Franz's triple to left-center field scored both Whalen and Lind and ended the scoring for the inning.

Netmen Annex Sixth Victory

Loyola's high-flying net squad racked up its sixth win of the season on April 13, as they turned back St. Joseph's College, of Philadelphia, 6 to 1, on the losers' court. The Greyhounds' first five men, Jerry Laroque, Jim Lacy, Gene Nolan, John Darrell, and Ed Ward, were extended, but all of them came through in fine style to help down the Hawks.

In the only doubles match, Ed Ward and Tom McDermott bested Jack Quinn and Jack Hanlon.

Green And Grey Splits Even In Non-League Diamond Tests

Loyola 7 - Vermont 5

With Danny Donohue hurling eight-hit ball, and some timely slugging by Tommy Lind, Walt Sibiski, and George Franz, Loyola's baseballers took the measure of the University of Vermont, 7 to 5, at Evergreen, on April 14.

Loyola's chunky right-hander struck out ten men and walked two while his mates tuned up their batting averages with ten safeties.

Donohue had the game well under control in all but the sixth and eighth innings. The New Englanders dented home plate two times in each of these surges.

The big inning for the home team was the fifth, in which 3 runs crossed the plate. It was in this outburst that shortstop Lind hit for a single, to push across two men already on base.

2nd Army 15 - Loyola 7

Uncle Sam's Second Army baseball team combed three Loyola pitchers for 12 hits and nine walks to avalanche the Greyhounds on the latter's grounds, 15 to 7, on April 20.

Charlie Barrett, Carl Eckles, and John Huth tried in vain to still the soldiers' bats while Jim Hunt and Joe McElwee held their hosts to a paltry trio of singles, though allowing eight walks between them.

The Green and Grey diamond athletes bunched all their runs in the fifth inning, when the Army defensive works practically fell to pieces. Six errors, four bases on balls, one wild pitch, and a lone single accounted for the damage.

Loyola Drops Meet To Jays

Dropping 9 of 14 track events, Loyola was defeated, 75-51, by the John Hopkins Blue Jays on the afternoon of April 19, at Homewood.

Leading the Greyhounds in points was Jack Brunk with 12, and Walt Smyth with 10. Brunk picked up five points for Loyola by winning the 100-yard dash in 10.1 seconds, three points for second place in the 220-yard dash, and four points for tying Bill Weighardt of Hopkins for first place in the broad jump. The distance jumped by both men was 19 feet, 7 inches.

Leading the pack in both the 120-yard high hurdles and the 220-yard low hurdles, Walt Smyth contributed 10 points to the Greyhound score. Smyth's time for the high boards was 15.6 seconds, and 25.2 for the low ones.

Golfers Win Over Terrors In Rain

Jack Cronin, Loyola's no. 1 linksman, who has been experiencing rugged competition for the Greyhounds this season.

On a rain-soaked course at Westminster, Md., on April 18, Loyola's golfers took the measure of Western Maryland College, by a score of 7 to 2.

The scores:

Simanski, Loyola, defeated Stevenson, 5 and 3.
Cronin, Loyola, defeated Jacobson, 2-up.
Loyola won best ball, 1-up.
Pelisek, Loyola, defeated Spicknell, 4 and 3.
Beeler, Loyola, defeated Bright, 2 and 1.
Loyola won best ball, 3 and 2.
Cushing, W. Md., defeated Cooney, 3 and 1.
Brosley, W. Md., and Winterstone halved.

Greyhounds Beaten On Diamond, 15-8

The State Teachers College of California, Pa., annexed a 15-to-8 victory over the Loyola baseball nine, on Tuesday, April 19, at Evergreen.

The visitors collected eleven hits and eight walks off of Greyhound pitchers Dick Yeisley, Carl Eckels, and John Amer, who suffered under mediocre fielding. The Teachers' duo of Bill Hopper and Ed Everson scattered nine Loyola safeties in this slugging contest.

Frank Kovalchuk, Pete Sarcupolus, and Bill Hahn led the winners' attack with a total of seven hits. The longest hit ball of the game was a booming homer by Loyola's Mike Zedalis, which carried 350 feet.

Ed Hughes' shot is deflected by Maryland's goalie, Dave Stocksdale, as Ed Miller and Jim Whalen stand by to help.

Important Contests Loom In All Spring Sports

The athletic card for the coming week lists action at home for each of the five Spring Sports.

The linksmen entertain the University of Baltimore at Mt. Pleasant today. The Bees are proud of their golf history, having turned out the great professional, Otto Greiner, but they were disappointed in their showing on the fairways last year.

However, John Bailey, student coach and number one man for the Bees, looks confidently upon such material as John Almes and Charlie Kreider, former Poly performers, and returning letterman, Jack Hawthorne. Bailey hopes to pull the U. of B. out of a two-year slump.

American U. Due

On May 2, Lefty Reitz's diamond charges hope to avenge the 12 to 3 slashing received at the hands of American U. last year. In that contest the hustling Eagles turned nine hits into 12 runs to support pitcher McLaughlin. The D. C. club comes to Evergreen with much the same lineup as last year.

Washington and Lee University brings a strong stick squad to Loyola on May 4. However, Coach Baxter is bemoaning the loss of All-South star, Alex Hill. Hill is suffering from a glandular ailment and will be out all season.

The Virginians look strong, despite the loss, with such stalwarts as All-American Tommy Tongue, All-South Goalie Billy Clements and All-South Defenseman Bill Pacey.

Netmen Ready

Vince Colimore's high-geared net squad takes on Western Maryland on May 5. The Greyhounds loom as heavy favorites in the singles, but will meet heavy competition in the doubles. The Terrors' strong doubles combination is Jack Stern and Al Weaver.

Loyola's thinclads have a tough assignment cut out for them when they face Washington College on May 6. The Shoremen have strength and depth in the distance jaunts and in the field events.

Varsity Teams Win Seven Tests

During the four days from April 6 to 9, inclusive, Loyola's Varsity athletic teams engaged in nine tests and emerged victorious in all but two of them.

The tennis team chalked up wins over Towson Teachers, 9-0, American U., 9-0, and Mt. St. Mary's, 8-1, and lost to Catholic U., 5-4. A resurging lacrosse squad vanquished V. M. I., 21 to 1, after losing to Williams, 4 to 3.

Lefty Reitz's baseballers beat Mt. St. Mary's, 23 to 2, the track team upset American U., 66-60, and the golfers squashed Villanova, 8-1.

The torrid schedule pace being set by Loyola's spring athletes will continue with gusto during the coming two weeks. No less than 25 events grace the card from today to May 12.

Tennis Team Wins Again

The Loyola College tennis team shut out the Johns Hopkins University court specialists, 9-0, on the Evergreen courts on April 21.

The Greyhounds marked their fifth Mason-Dixon victory in six starts, and showed that they rate a definite threat in the race for the net crown.

Jim Lacy extended his undefeated string by toppling Calvin Thomas 6-0, 6-3. Jerry Laroque found the going a little rough before finally stopping his opponent, Gene Schreiber, 6-4, 6-8, 9-7. The only other match to go three sets was that in which Gene Nolan of the Greyhounds defeated Ted Miller 6-1, 5-7, 6-0.

John Darrell, Loyola's freshman sensation, defeated Bill Greenspoon of Hopkins, 7-5, 6-1. Loyola's Ed Ward won his match 6-2, 6-2, after which George Krug disposed of his rival, Bob Lang, 6-2, 6-4.

Loyola's one-two punch in the doubles, Jim Lacy and Jerry Laroque, continued their winning ways by toppling the Hopkins combination 6-1, 6-0.

Golf Team Bows To St. Joseph's

St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia defeated the Loyola golf squad, on the Philadelphia links, by a score of 6½ to 2½ on April 13. Jack Kain posted the days best medal score, 74, in defeating Loyola's Jack Cronin, 2 and 1.

Cronin teamed with Jack Simanski to cop best ball honors, as Simanski defeated his opponent, Tom Toohill, 3 and 2. Loyola's Jack Cooney halved his match with Tom McAndrews of the Philadelphia squad. However, the Greyhounds' three other performers, Mel Beeler, Jim Metzbowler and Bill Cronin, were defeated.

Intramurals

Golf Tourney To Start Soon

The second annual Intramural Golf Tournament will commence next week with several new awards being offered. Besides the usual medal awarded to the top linksmen from the school, another gold medal and certificate will be presented by the National Golf Foundation. The Foundation gives these prizes for the purpose of promoting sports in colleges.

With Bill Cronin, last year's winner, now playing on the Greyhound varsity squad, all entrants in the tourney appear to have a good chance of carting home the prizes.

Entries Close April 29

Entries close on Friday, April 29, and Clifton Park's course will be the site of the matches. Any course may be used, however, on agreement of the two opponents.

Pairings have been made and are now posted on the gym bulletin board for the Intramural tennis doubles event. The participants have priority on the Loyola courts and may replace anyone on them in order to play off their match.

Season Ending

With the tennis doubles and golf being the last events in Franny Mueller's intramural year, the annual trophies awarded to the two top successful intramural participants will be given soon.

At present the four leaders are Ed Ward, 127 points, Harry Beck, 107, Bill Fannon, 102 and John Darrell, 99. Ward acquired his points for his activity in basketball, horse-shoes, football, foul-shooting, ping-pong, and bowling. Beck, the runner-up, amassed his total in the same sports with the exception of ping-pong.
